Students Studying in The United States

REDUCED COURSE LOAD

F-1 and J-1 students must enroll in and maintain enrollment in a full-time course load during every required academic term; however, federal regulations allow international students to reduce their course load due to specific and limited academic or medical circumstances.

WHEN IS A REDUCED COURSE LOAD (RCL) PERMITTED?

The limited exceptions to full-time enrollment include:

- Academic Difficulties
- Medical Conditions

TYPES OF RCLS

Prior authorization is required for the Academic and Medical RCL. Please do not drop/withdraw from courses without prior authorization.
